

We invite you to take part in the Kindlehill Autumn Fair Exhibition

Sweetening the Waters

The theme for this exhibition is drawn from Aboriginal People using the banksia flower to sweeten the water to make a nourishing and delicious drink. Sweetening the water is about nourishment, caring for one another, caring for our precious waterways and all that feeds from them.

If you would like to exhibit an artwork for the fair on this theme, please contact Sarah Daniel on 0422652830 or at saraha\_not@hotmail.com

Anyone is welcome to exhibit.

FAIR DAY – Sweetening The Waters

Fair preparations for a beautiful family day are well underway. We encourage every family in the school to join in making this a living expression of Kindlehill community spirit. For many a parent presently in our school, coming to a fair and experiencing the beauty and community of the day, was integral to their decision to enrol children here. There is so much on offer including the following:

- Wholesome food, coffee and chai
- Homemade with love crafts
- Music tent – all day programme
- Honey stall, plant stall, white elephant stall
- Art exhibition – sweetening the water
- Activities for children such as go-kart, slack line, flying fox and obstacle course

We welcome practical support on stalls, set up and pack away. We also welcome artistic contributions for the art exhibition, for music and for children's activities.

It will be a beautiful day of sweetening the waters so that the ripples of nourishment can flow out into the wider community and world around us.

Remembering Peter Rigby

All the children in primary school who have passed through our kindy will know Belinda, who volunteers every Thursday in the kindy garden. Belinda's dad is Peter Rigby who was a pioneer parent in the early days of Kindlehill, volunteering immense time and energy, creative and practical, to support our school. The legacy of Peter's work around the school remains in the boat over the sandpit and the much loved water garden outside class ½. Peter built many other things including fences, walkways, a forge and our first pizza oven – all overlaid now by other creative projects.

Peter Rigby recently passed away after a long illness. I will remember Peter here on weekends with William and Belinda alongside him, working tirelessly and cheerfully. The position of the well at the bottom of the water garden is where Peter divined there was a spring! He told me its where the water spirits were, he told John there was a spring there. Bless you Peter Rigby, we celebrate your gift of life that is an on-going integral part of Kindlehill. We extend our commiserations and love to Belinda and William at this sad time, and also to Jennie who was married to Peter during the time they were a family at Kindlehill.

After School Care in Full Swing

Brigett and the children are enjoying their afternoons together. After an initial play and run around, the group gather for a nourishing afternoon tea (scones, apple crumble, homemade dips and crackers, fruit). Usually there is more outdoor play, and as the weather cools there is plenty of craft, reading, and drawing in the cosy library.

We are still taking enrolments, and you are welcome to join the group mid-term, for the remainder of term. Consistency in the child's after school routine is very important so we encourage you to plan the days suitable for your family, and enrol for those days. It enables the children to get to know everyone attending on their day, and also allows Brigett the opportunity to plan suitable menus and activities.

Please make the most of this wonderful service so we can continue to offer it well into the future. If you have any questions or would like an orientation afternoon for your child, please contact Brigett on 0434 775 781 or via care@kindlehill.nsw.edu.au.

Thank you from Felix

Over the break Felix was lucky enough to have a holiday with Katherine, Ethan and Sophie. It meant he did not get sad and lonely and is greatly appreciated by everyone especially Felix.
